STAT Dear [Redacted]

Thank you very much for your letter of April 17, 1985 which was waiting for me upon my return from Washington where Professor Charles R. Salamone and I were putting the finishing touches on our course "The Impact of International Terrorism on the Formulation of United States Foreign Policy."

We would appreciate very much meeting with you on Monday, June 3, 1985 at approximately 9:30 A.M., if that is convenient for you. Our whole schedule is as follows: June 3: DOD 11:30-2:00 P.M., FBI 3:00-4:30 P.M.; June 4: Embassy of Israel 9:30-11:00; PIO 11:30-1:00 P.M.; ABC News, John McWethy 2:30-4:00 P.M.; June 5: Congressman Fred Eckert 9:00-10:00 A.M. (from our district); Senator D.P. Moynihan, 11:00-12:00 P.M.; Senator Alphonse D'Amato 1:00-2:00 P.M.; Editors of The Washington Post 2:00-3:00 P.M. and June 6: National Security Council/White House 9:30-11:00 A.M. and Office for Combatting Terrorism, DOS 1:30-3:00 P.M.

If you could provide us with Director Casey's Tufts University speech, we will duplicate it and make it a part of the packet of source materials we supply all of our students with during the first week of the course in Rochester. We will look forward to a presentation on "The Role of Intelligence in the National Security Process" as well as a discussion of "Careers in Intelligence" on the 3rd.

We shall supply you with a complete list of attendees, the dates and place of birth and social security numbers and remind them that they must bring identification when we meet with you. All attendees will be U.S. citizens, only.

Again, thank you and thank [Redacted] for her efforts on our behalf. We look forward to hearing from you regarding the time and location of our briefing. The maximum number will be twenty students and two professors.

Dear Professor French:

Your request to bring a class to the Central Intelligence Agency for a presentation on "The Impact of International Terrorism on the Formulation of United States Foreign Policy" has been referred to me for action. Unfortunately, we will not be able to provide a speaker in this area. We can, however, provide a copy of a speech on terrorism which our Director Mr. Casey will present at Tufts University later this week. I notice from your course outline that you have collected an impressive reading list for your students. Livingstone's THE WAR AGAINST TERRORISM (D.C. Heath & Co. in paperback) is also an excellent source.

Moreover, should you want to bring your students to the CIA for discussions of the role of intelligence in the national security process, as well as a discussion of careers in intelligence, we would be happy to make these arrangements. I understand from [redacted] that you have visited here in previous years and we are anxious to welcome you back. It is just that there is little that we can talk about in the field of terrorism and US foreign policy.

If you do desire to arrange for a visit to the Agency, please send me a letter providing details such as the proposed date of the visit, the size of the group, a statement that all are US citizens, etc. and I will make the arrangements. One week prior to the visit I will need a complete list of the attendees including date and place of birth, plus social security numbers.
